$245,000 Locally For Interest On National Debt

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York — How much money will the Federal government collect this year from Crawford County residents, by way of taxes and other levies, toward the interest charges on the national debt?

The answer is — approximately $245,000. That covers only the interest on the debt. It will not reduce by a particle the capital amount that is owed, some $280 billion.

The figures are based on a study made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization, showing that the annual interest on the debt is now close to $9 billion.

In more practical terms, it means that an average of $49.97 a year per person, or nearly $50 a week for everyone in the United States, has to be collected to meet the carrying charges.

If the Federal government had been operating over the years on a pay-as-you-go basis and, as a result, there were no national debt, residents of Crawford County would have been relieved, consequently, of $245,000 of their current tax burdens.

That money would have been available locally for general spending in this period of economic need, it is pointed out.

Although little objection has been raised to the emergency steps being taken by the new administration to spur the economy by money injection methods, even though such steps may increase the national debt, there is criticism over our failure to reduce it during more prosperous years.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, one of the few who is being sapped by deficit financing indulged in, too long — and by Federal paternalism grown too big.

—Rep. John J. Rhodes of Arizona feels the same way. He has introduced a bill that would make it mandatory to reduce the national debt by at least $2 billion every year. It would take 145 years, at that pace, to wipe it out.

Crawford County's share of the debt, based on the present rate of average of $4.53 per household, comes to the tidy sum of $7,784,000.

Just how long would it take local families to liquidate their share of the debt? If they gave their entire income for that purpose?

At their net earning rate, which averaged $2,998 per household in the past fiscal year, it would take 14.1 months.

Underground Closes Season With Win

The Underground Forest All-Stars closed out their season last Saturday night at the Frederic High gym by defeating Kalkaska 10-8. The team had a record of 11-1 for the season of 25 victories against 24 defeats. The record is one of the best made by an independent team in this area for a long time.

The team was led by the winners, 20 points. Pacing the All-Stars at attack was Phillip Smith with 39, Ron Larson added 3, Jim Granlund 12, Gary Springs 15, Duane Worden 8 and Aubrey Welch 14.

The team was supported by their sponsor, Carl Johnson and their manager Charles Chapman. Chapman was high in his praise for the members of the team for their fine sportsmanship throughout the season. He added that captains Larson and Worden deserved a lot of credit for the way they led the team to this outstanding record. Also for the many friends they made in other towns.

On Wednesday evening, March 22nd, the Underground Forest All-Stars will make an appearance in the Houghton Lake gym for a benefit game. The benefit will be announced next week.

Judge O'Keefe Rules No Cause In City Case

Circuit Judge Dennis O'Keefe last Monday ruled "no cause for action" in a case brought against the City of Grayling by Ruth Kratochvil as administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Wencil E. Kratochvil.

The case was filed earlier last year and the estate term of Circuit Court, Judge O'Keefe set a special term of court late in November to hear it. The case was presented to the Judge without jury.

Kratochvil died on June 1, 1959. It is alleged he was instantly killed when he came in contact with a high voltage electric transmission line while at work at the McVal Lumber Company mill.

Motel Robber Bound Over

David Ingalls, 21, of Luzerne and former Grayling resident was bound over to Circuit Court by Justice of the Peace Olin Williams at an arraignment proceedings in Justice Court last Friday on a charge of robbery. No bond was offered and Ingalls was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Arthur F. Clough and is being held at the Crawford County Jail until the April term of Circuit Court.

Ingalls was arrested by troopers of the Gaylord State Police Post last Tuesday night, an hour and five minutes after a lone gunman robbed the Grayling Motel on Main Street of $35.00.

Grayling Police Chief Harold Hatfield listened to Mrs. Harold Hempel's description of the robber and thought it tallied with that of Ingalls.

State police of the Houghton Lake post said Ingalls admitted the robbery shortly after his capture.

Mrs. Hempel, owner of the motel here, said she was watching television in her living quarters when she heard a noise in the office.

When she entered the office, Mrs. Hempel said, the gunman leveled a pistol at her and told her to give him all the money. After leaving, he told her to wait five minutes before calling police.

Officers said the bandit was wearing a blue handkerchief over his face.

Citizens Conference On Education Report

According to reports the 3,400 school administrators, board members, teachers and interested citizens who attended the 22nd Annual Citizens Conference on Education held Saturday at Everett High School in Lansing, the majority present did not feel that federal aid to education is the answer to the school finance problem even though addresses given by Gov. John B. Swainson and State Education Commissioner Lynn Bartlett urged its support.

They were also cool to raising the present 15 mill limitation levied on local properties. They did agree they were not satisfied with the present method of land assessment and equalization.

Those attending were divided into discussion groups presided over by a discussion leader, a resource person and recorder. Questionnaires were handed out and four discussing the contents of an "agree, disagree or no opinion" concerning each question was checked. The questions concerned local, state and federal taxes.

A very inspiring address was given by Willard E. Goslin, Professor of Education, George Peck College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee. His topic "How To Give Adequate Financial Support To Adequate Education." He pointed out that the first step to adequate financing is an adequate program of education. Russia's educational program was mentioned. He stated that an ignorant Russia is no threat to our well-being but that they have a vast educational program and the race is on. He stated we need poets and philosophers as well as scientists and mathematicians, in other words a balanced program.

He repeated a well known fact, our lack of language education. At conferences he had attended abroad, most of the persons involved spoke four and five languages and the United States is not even bi-lingual. He said as far as financing an educational program is concerned it is simple — whether we prefer two cars in the garage, fishing trips and unnecessary creature comforts at the cost of our freedom or the education of our children.

Attending the meeting from Grayling were Supt. Joseph Stripe, Mrs. Robert Runk and Mrs. Robert Strong.

Sgt. and Mrs. Larlin Baker (Joan Chelada) have moved to Newburgh, N. Y. Larlin is general manager of three trucks in Thule, Greenland of Grayling High School.

Grayling Vikings and Frederic Eagles Bumped In First Appearance

Bob Cats Draw Bye At Petoskey Regional

The Houghton Lake Bob Cats under coach Bob Amble went through three opponents to win the Class C District Basketball Tournament in Grayling and the right to move on to the Petoskey Regional this week.

The Bob Cats drew a bye in the first round of the Regional and will meet the winner of the Traverse City-St. Francis versus East Jordan game. In the other bracket, the Charlevoix Raiders will face the Frankfort Panthers. East Jordan is the winner of the Gaylord-District, St. Francis of the Traverse City District, Charlevoix of the Petoskey District and Frankfort of their own tourney.

The Bob Cats won the Grayling tourney by first dropping the Grayling Vikings, coasting past the Alcona-Lincoln Elks, and then battling right down to the wire on Saturday night in the championship game to stop the Lake City Trojans by two points.

Houghton Lake had trouble breaking a full court press put on by Lake City but in the closing minutes, the Bobcats, capitalized on free throws to eke out a 68-66 nod over the Lake City five.

The crowd that watched Houghton Lake gain the Grayling Class C final saw a determined Lake City crew knot the count at 66-66 with 30 seconds on the clock. A pass from Lyle Carrick to Dick Gage proved to be the difference of the contest, as Carrick laid the ball up for two points and the championship.

Three men broke into double figures for Houghton Lake, and an equal number for Lake City. Houghton's Bob Thompson led all scorers with 24 points on 12-21 followed by teammates Gage 20 and Lyle Carrick 11.

Houghton Lake advanced to the final round with a big victory over Alcona, while Lake City earned its final position with a decisive win over Roscommon on Thursday night.

In the opener, Lake City had three men reach double figures—Gil Lamont, Ron Roberts and Herb Kobiska. Lamont was high with 18 on a 6-4 combination, while Roberts hit 13 on 4-5 and Kobiska collected 11 on 4-3.

Roscommon had only John Osgren break into double digits. Osgren netted 11 points on five field goals and 8 free throws. Roscommon team fell behind 42-22 at the end of the first half, but the Bucks' second half rally fell far short of the Lake City total. In the last 16 minutes of play, Roscommon outscored its opponent, 28-25.

In the Houghton Lake-Alcona tilt, it was the Bobcats all the way, as they rolled to their 14th win in 16 starts. The Lakers had four men in double figures, Lyle Carrick was high with 18 points on an 8-2 combination, followed by Bob Thompson with 17 on 10-15.

Frank Gross Given All - State Mention

Frank Gross, Grayling Viking all-conference forward was awarded All-State Honorable Mention by the Detroit Free Press on Sunday.

Gross who was Grayling's most potent offensive weapon this year, and who scored over 300 points for the green and white was an all-conference selection last year and seems to be sure repeater for this year's mythical ten man honor squad.

Sam Supernaw, Charlevoix Raider outstanding court man gave a post on the 4th team in Class C. Only two other players from the conference were named. Both were given honorable mention. They were Dixon of Boyne City and Klein of Mancelona.

National Road Test Shows Concrete Best

First returns from the $27,000,000 National Road Test sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials near Ottawa, Ill., show concrete outlasted asphalt 3 to 1 after two years of scientifically controlled traffic testing.

An announcement by the Portland Cement Association said initial results from the nationally famed road test show 74.6 per cent of concrete test sections and only 23.6 per cent of asphalt sections survived the test. Both types of pavement had been subjected to more than 1,100,000 identical truck load applications.

On the basis of information thus far available from the road test, concrete was shown a wide margin in durability throughout the two years of pavement testing under heavy truck loads.

The AASHO road test, completed last November 30 after U. S. army trucks travelled the equivalent of 683 times around the world over test sections, was directed by the Highway Research Board of the National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council.

State Voters Get Chance For Their Say

MICHIGAN VOTERS every other spring get a chance to take a hand in the future of their sons and daughters.

All too many of them don't even realize what is at stake. In the biennial spring election, coming up April 3 this year, two members of the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan; two members of the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University; two members of the Board of Governors of Wayne State University, and a member of the State Board of Education, which supervises other higher education institutions, will be elected.

Other positions will be filled April 3 also. Statewide, two justices of the Supreme Court will be chosen, and a Highway Commissioner and a Superintendent of Public Instruction will be elected. Many offices in local government units are to be contested in the spring election.

Chances are the duties of all of them, from Supreme Court Justices to local school boards, are better known to most Michigan citizens than the duties of the members of state educational governing boards.

Membership on these boards is not merely an honorary position. Nor are the Regents, Trustees, Governors and members of the State Board of Education mere watchdogs over the teaching and administration in Michigan's state colleges and universities, though this is a part of their responsibility.

They are policy makers. They have the final say on who will teach and work in almost all the positions of responsibility in education in Michigan. They decide what will be taught and how it will be taught. They make the important rules that govern the operations of each college and university.

Decisions made by these public officials set the pattern for Michigan education right down to the one-room schoolhouse level. They have almost direct responsibility over the hundreds of millions of dollars that are spent annually on education. Policies set by the boards cover the money appropriated by the Legislature for education, $108.4 million last year and undoubtedly more than that this year. They control to an extent the use of sales tax and other revenues which come to the state earmarked for education, and the local property tax dollars which go to schools.

It seems almost needless to point out that the best possible qualified people should be chosen for these positions of immense power.

Political parties nominate the candidates for these offices. The voters elect them.

state has been fortunate that in most instances over the years well motivated, high principled candidates have been presented to the voting public.

But since the educational future of virtually every Michigan child is touched by the actions of the top educational governing boards, each voter should make his decision on the person he wants for each job on the basis of the evidence of knowledge and qualifications of the candidates.

Blind partisanship is no basis for a judgement on whom to vote for when so much is at stake.

There is much talk in Michigan of taking numerous offices, not the least of which are associated with education, out of the partisan arena. Some people and groups even advocate making many of the positions appointive.

These ideas are valid subjects for debate. In the meantime, ballots must be cast in a partisan election to pick the Trustees, Regents, Governors and a member of the Board of Education.

Each voter who knows about the vast responsibilities of these positions and cares about the educational future of all the children of Michigan will make his decision with the utmost thought.

Each person elected as a Trustee, Governor or member of the Board of Education serves for six years. Each Regent serves for eight.

Politics have their place in the Michigan scheme of things. But maneuvering for partisan advantage has no place in the deliberations of Michigan educational governing boards.

In order to keep it so, the voter

If We Want Growth? . . .

During the campaign and following his election President Kennedy has advocated tax reform measures for industry which would stimulate investment, and enlargement and betterment of our industrial plant. He has been specific about this. On one occasion he said: "We must stimulate plant modernization programs, which are vital both to increased production and to the building of industrial facilities which can compete successfully with the modern plants of Europe and the Soviet Union. Wherever we are certain that tax revision—including accelerated depreciation—will stimulate investment in new plant and equipment without damage to our principles of equity, we will proceed with such revision."

The accelerated depreciation need is at the heart of the problem. And so, along with it, is liberalization of depreciation allowances. As matters now stand, a producing enterprise can recover the cost of a machine or some other piece of necessary physical equipment over a long period of years. But, as a result of inflation, and also of increasing complexity of equipment, the new machine which is needed may cost two, five or ten times as much as the original. The money to make the exchange just isn't there. Most authorities think that depreciation, under present laws, is spread over much too long a time.

Henry Hazlitt has dealt with the matter in recent Newsweek columns, which have been reproduced in The Reader's Digest for February. He pinpoints it in these words: "America leads the world today in man-hour productivity because it has provided each worker with more and better tools than any other nation . . . But today our growth is retarded because we are not replacing our tools of production fast enough to keep pace with the world's rapidly advancing technology and our own economic potential. If we are to increase our productivity and maintain our lead over foreign competitors, American industry must invest substantially more than $19,300 for each new job it provides for our growth population."

Mr. Hazlitt goes on to show that our tax laws and policies are the most restrictive of any leading industrial nation when it comes to plant modernization and new investment. In this we are behind Canada, Britain

France, Germany and others. All of these allow much faster write-offs of equipment, and also allow much larger allowances. The result is constant improvement of their industrial plant. Liberal depreciation policies, for example, played a major role in the "miraculous recovery" of Germany.

In this country, on the other hand, says Mr. Hazlitt, " . . . leading economists and accountants have estimated that costs of replacement are outrunning depreciation allowances by five to eight billion dollars a year." The inevitable result is increasing obsolescence, and a steady weakening of our ability to compete.

An objection to liberalization of depreciation laws is that the government would lose revenue. Mr. Hazlitt, like other writers on the subject, has the answer to that. There would be some loss at the very beginning. But, over the long pull, the government would get the money. There would just be a longer time factor.

Secondly, and much more important, the new investment would be followed by increased production, employment and earnings. And these in themselves would automatically increase the government's tax take.

As Mr. Hazlitt sees it, "There is no more urgent task before the new Congress than to make this reform in our tax laws." He is not alone in this. A poll of leading American economists, made by the American Economic Foundation, shows that 70 per cent of them favor liberalization of the depreciation laws.

Silly question. You'll never cease trying to make your home more pleasant, more modern and convenient.

It costs money, sure. But it's money well spent, and you get a lot of value from it.

Same thing with General Telephone. Good maintenance, expansion and improvement are a necessary part of our business. That's what keeps increasing the value and scope of your telephone service—keeps making it an even greater bargain all the time.

But only by being allowed a fair price for its services can General Telephone maintain top-quality performance for you—and steadily keep advancing it.

Because, in the long run, only a healthy business can give you the greatest value for your money. That's true about everybody you trade with. And it's equally true about modern telephone service.

Increase In Savings Noted In County

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York — An upsurge in savings has been noted in Crawford County. Local residents have been putting in unusually large proportion of their available cash into bank deposits and into other forms of savings in the last two years.

The story is told in figures just released by the Federal Reserve System in its biennial report. It lists the amounts on deposit locally, as well as in every other county in the United States, as of June 15, 1960, approximately the beginning of the current fiscal year.

The combined deposits in Crawford County's savings and commercial banks came to $23,044,000. Included in this total were time deposits (savings accounts) and demand deposits (checking accounts) of individuals, partnerships and corporations as well as certain governmental and inter-bank deposits.

The savings portion of it amounted to $14,144,600, according to the Federal Reserve report. That is, 61.4 percent of the total. It represents a growth in bank savings in the county of 15.3 percent in the period.

The rise, locally, was greater than in most parts of the United States, where it averaged 10.1 percent. In the East North Central States it was 10.0 percent.

The Commerce Department estimates that Americans were setting aside in some form of savings about 8.2 cents out of every dollar of after-tax income they received during the third quarter of 1960. That was the highest rate of savings since the 1958 recession, it says.

What is the effect on the economy of this cautious attitude on the part of consumers? The analysts see both good and bad in it. They point out that the people who are shoring away money in the bank are also engaged in reducing their outstanding debt. They will be in a better position, as a result, to buy that new car or that new refrigerator when the recession ends. However, at the present time, their cautious saving is cutting into retail volume.

On the plus side is the fact that the more money that is put away in banks, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions the more there will be available for mortgages and for other capital investments needed for business growth.

LOVE AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

When Boyfriends Like Someone Else

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I'm trying to get him. I would like to have your advice."

OUR ADVICE: Relax and enjoy your teen years and quit worrying about whether or not this boy likes another girl too.

What would you do? Wrap him up in a bundle and not allow him to even speak to other girls? He said that he liked you "the most" but he did not say that he did not like the other girl too.

Quite often, a teenager will "ruin" his or her chances with someone they like by being too demanding, by expecting too much, or by an obvious display of jealousy. In the instance above, it might happen that the boy would say to himself, "Well, if she's already jealous of me talking to someone else, and we are not even going steady, what would she be like if we had been going steady for a long time? Would it be safe for me to even speak to someone else?"

It is the nature of human beings to "expand" as they grow; to make new friends, to learn more and more about the world in which they live. With this in mind, we would ask our letter writer this question: What kind of a world would this be if some high authority said I will allow you to have but one friend. You cannot have more than that?

How difficult life would be if, at a very early age in life, we had to choose this one individual and shut out all others around us.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, as an observing to make, address your letter to: "LOVE AND ABOUT TEENAGERS," NAT'L OFFICE, NEWATER & CO., INC., FRANKFORT, KY.

A report of the treasury was made by Treasurer DuBois. Motion by Wolff and seconded by Latuszek that the Treasurer's report be accepted as read.

The floor was given to Bob Franklin as spokesman for S.C.A. A. representatives. We were informed that the next meeting of the S.C.A.A. to be held in Grayling was to be on a district basis, which includes eight states, and is therefore expected to be twice as large or larger. Mr. Franklin went on to explain that their costs would be considerably increased and that the crowd control also would be more difficult. In view of these things he asked that this Board consider the following:

1. That the money that is presently used for trophies be put in a police protection fund and that the Chamber assume full responsibility to pay the police on duty.

2. The we, as sponsors, arrange to have amplifiers attached to the control tower with microphone. They (S.C.A.A.) would assume the responsibility of placing one of their men as a referee in order that the crowd would be better informed of the events and the equipment racing.

3. That the Sponsors place additional fencing in the paddock area to separate the pits for great-

REPORT FROM LANSING
 ROSS O. STEVENS
 Your State Representative (Prospect Isle District)

The voters of the State of Michigan will decide April 3rd whether or not we are to have a constitution. Last week I mentioned that Wayne County sends to Lansing 38 of the 110 members of the House. To me this says "vote NO" on the Con-Con proposal April 3rd. Many people want to rewrite our constitution to give big city areas more representatives.

This would mean less representation for the northern counties. The interests of these northern counties have been set aside too much, already. Let us vote "no" on April 3rd.

The "business climate of Michigan" is the issue that has received the most attention. Generally, the arguments center around high taxes, and too much interference from labor leaders.

Republicans are leading the battle against higher taxes. Several bills have been introduced, which if enacted into law, would give tax relief to small business. Republicans are also battling to keep the state of Michigan out of the union, and to keep it from usurping the functions of local governments.

A bill to allow 4-H Fair Associations to have trailers on their fair grounds during fair time has just about completed its long journey through the legislature. This is the first bill that I co-sponsored, it makes legal a practice that has been illegal.

Some Old Cars Never Die

Next time I hear a driver complaining that his car has depreciated in value I have a true story to tell him.

Back in 1898 an outfit named the Winton Horseless Carriage Company made a two passenger car, by hand of course, that sold for $210 against the stiff sales resistance of the times. The first owner kept it until 197 when he sold it to a dealer, who finally resold it after much haggling, for $175.

You can imagine the reluctance of the buyer seven years later when he inquired if the asking price of $40 included a horse! Well, the poor old car really depreciated.

clean through the bottom of the market in 1925 - 27 years after it was made - when its owner had to PAY a junk dealer $15 to haul away what was left of it.

Now comes the cheerful part. For 13 years it lay in the junkyard gathering dust, until one day an antique car collector bought it for $5. Just to show you what good care and reconditioning can do (as we've always said) this fellow worked on it replacing some parts and repairing others, for about ten years.

In 1948, on its fiftieth birthday, he had an antique auto that was winning prizes in competitions. He turned down $5,000 for it once, but finally sold it in 1953 for around $9,000. That owner has it still.

We haven't any 80-year-old Winton Horseless Carriages (I just ran out and checked) but we have some fine young toddlers of two and three years with a great future ahead of them.
